Dear Mr Whitaker,

Thank you very much for your letter and for your dedicated work towards improving educational outcomes for children and youth in Sub-Saharan Africa. The work of your organization is very important in achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 4, quality and inclusive education for all.

You may like to review the Education Commission's "Learning Generation" report that highlights how to achieve greater effectiveness in education spending and interventions, which have proven to have a strong impact in delivering results. It also details proposals for increasing domestic and international financing, improving inclusion, innovation and performance of education systems.

While we are not a funding organization, you may wish to reach out to the International Education Funders Group, which is a network of over 90 foundations and donor-advised funds that support basic education in the Global South. This organization may be able to help identify funders working in education.

Thank you for your work in global education. I wish you all the success with your efforts.

With my best wishes,
